On the School Scene

BY ANNE HUFFMAN

This week has been a busy one for the Journalism class. Members of the class are preparing their booklet "Greetings" for the High School pupils. It will be a mimeographed issue in color and will comprise work of pupils in the upper six grades. This will be our last column until after Christmas vacation. The Journalism class takes this opportunity to wish its readers a "Merry Christmas and Happy New Year."

CHRISTMAS DANCE

The Junior Class is sponsoring a Christmas Dance and party combined, to be held on Tuesday evening, December 21, from 7:30 till 11:00 o'clock.

Entertainment will include the grand march, ping pong, checker, and Christmas caroling.

Refreshments are free, and admission charge is 20c for individuals or 35c per couple.

We hope everyone will be able to come and join the fun.

HOME EC PARTY

Twenty-two girls attended the F. H. A. Christmas party at the high school Home Ec room Friday night.

To start the evening, the girls enjoyed a basketball game on the gym floor. After the game, refreshments were served by the luncheon committee, and gifts were exchanged by the girls. Decorations were in the nature of a lighted tree, which formed the centerpiece for the table.

Later in the evening the group attended a movie at the Cozy Theater.

The Senior Government class was given a treat Thursday, December 9, when they were shown special slides in Current Events, on themes being discussed currently in the class.

One film pictured Presidential Elections, past and present. The second film concerned the Palestine Question.

The New York Times newspaper has instituted a new service by which schools and colleges may purchase these films. A series of eight are to be received by the school.

INDIANS TO PLAY PANTHERS

The Indians will take to the floor for their seventh game of the season when they invite the Panthers out of their den Thursday night. This will be the second game of the season with the Ross cagers, the Indians having been defeated by them in their first game early in the season.

Ross, along with Beaver and Spring Valley, is being favored to take out of the Big Three as the season progresses.

INDIANS LOSE GAME RESERVES WIN

Last Friday night the Indians were forced to accept defeat from Spring Valley in a game which resulted in a lopsided score of 63 to 40. In this match, which was played on the Spartan floor, the Indians failed to connect with the old hoop accurately, although they made repeated efforts to do so.

The Valley boys started scoring early in the first session, while the Indians held their own favorably till the half, which ended with a score of 23 to 21. In the second half the Valley boys pulled ahead and started scoring from almost any spot on the floor.

The little Indians walked away with their fifth victory of the season. The final score of their game was 35 to 28. The Reserve boys have suffered only one loss in the season to date.

We hope Santa will be very good to our two high-point men of the Spring Valley-Cedarville Reserve game, as they are a very deserving duo.

In the recent conquest James Herbert Luttrell had seven tallies to his credit. James asks for only one gift from Santa—a girl friend. Now Santa, that's going to take some guessing! You will recognize Jim when you get to Cedarville—blond hair, blue eyes, and always a happy smile. He is 5' 8" inches tall, and weighs 145 pounds.

We also salute James Oliver

Man Injured In U. S. 35 Accident

One man was injured severely when three cars and a truck were involved in a collision on U. S. 35, three miles east of Xenia, Saturday evening, sheriff's deputies reported.

The injured man was Raymond McCoy, 60, Stevenson road, driver of the truck. Deputy Robert McCaffrey said he was treated for a broken jaw and fractured nose by Dr. R. L. Haines, of Jamestown.

The deputy said the McCoy truck, which was going west, collided with an auto traveling east being driven by Carl Lynch, 52, Jasper road. He said it appeared that the car can truck side swiped.

Shortly after the truck and car collided, the latter vehicle was struck from the rear by a car driven by John Allen, Xenia. Hardly had Allen and his wife and three children alighted from their auto when an auto operated by Robert Luttrell, Jr., 17, Jamestown, R. R. 1, hit the front end of the truck. Mr. Allen was going east and Mr. Luttrell was traveling west.

Mr. McCoy, driver of the truck and Mr. Luttrell, driver of one of the autos, were unaccompanied.

Mrs. Carl Lynch, riding with her husband, suffered minor cuts and bruises.

Mr. Buob, a civil engineer, was asked to identify as genuine a number of documents in which Mr. Schuessler hoped to prove that Skyway Park is a military reservation and therefore its residents had lost their voting rights in this county.

On the other hand, George H. Smith, Xenia, lawyer for Mr. Crone, called R. J. O'Donnell, federal attorney for the southern Ohio district, in an attempt to prove that the federal government through his office, does not handle criminal cases in the area since state law violations are referred to the civil authorities in the county in which the area is located. It was on apparent effort to show civil rights of Skyway residents are not abridged. Mr. O'Donnell also introduced some documents as evidence, including a federal attorney general's ruling which ceded jurisdiction to county authorities.

Prosecutor Marcus Shoup, who assisted Mr. Smith since the prosecutor's ruling was the basis for the setting up by the election board of the Skyway precinct, offered a motion to dismiss the case, calling Mr. Spahr's evidence insufficient. The move was overruled by Judge McDowell.

The prosecutor summoned Miss Ida Boyd, a deputy clerk in the U. S. district court at Dayton, to the stand and she identified court records in condemnation proceedings. It was believed Mr. Shoup was seeking to show that the federal government, specified in each instance whether such land would be used for military purposes or housing.

Judge McDowell previously had overruled motions by Mr. Smith to dismiss the case because it was a federal matter, and to make the election board a party defendant.

Mr. Smith shaped his client's defense about the Lohan act and its suffrage provisions, that there had been no change of residents' status and that the federal government disclaims its tax exclusive jurisdiction of the area.

On the other hand, Mr. Schuessler, in arguing for Mr. Spahr, contends that Skyway residents are not legal Greene county electors and the more than 700 votes cast in the commission race should be invalidated.

If Skyway would be knocked off election totals, Mr. Spahr would be re-elected in place of Mr. Crone. Second commissioner elected was Arthur Brans, New Jasper township Republican. The Skyway controversy would not alter his election.

DEER HUNTING

Mr. Harry Hammon, Harold Reinhard and Paul Cummings spent four days this past week hunting deer in N. East Ohio.

Election Case Taken Under Advisement

Robert E. Crone of Osborn, Democratic candidate for county commission who was high man in the Nov. 2 ballotting, will take his seat Jan. 3, subject to any later adverse decision which might come from Common Pleas Judge George W. McDowell of Hillsboro.

Asked how soon a decision might be forthcoming in the Skyway Park voting precinct test suit which is heard all day Friday, Judge McDowell answered, "Not until after the first of the year."

He said his interpretation of the law in the matter found Mr. Crone, at present mayor of Osborn, the duly-qualified county commissioner for the term beginning Jan. 3 and Ralph O. Spahr, Republican incumbent who is pressing the suit, is disputing. However, Mr. Spahr is challenging an election board tabulation and is not now qualified to continue in office after expiration of his term, the judge ruled.

This means that Mr. Crone would continue with his term if Judge McDowell ruled Skyway Park ballots were valid in last month's general election. If the judge upholds Mr. Spahr's contention that Skyway is an illegal Greene county precinct because it is a federal reservation, then the Republican contest would replace Mr. Crone on commission, subject to further appeals.

Reams of documents were in Judge McDowell's custody when he left, but because of delay in obtaining copies of some federal records, his decision will be slower in coming.

The non-resident judge, who sat here at the request of Republican Frank L. Johnson, local jurist, announced he would take the case under advisement and instructed attorneys to submit briefs. This, too, will take additional time.

Friday's hearing was dull for the mere dozen spectators who flocked through several hours of the trial. The case is strictly a technical suit, with both sides providing conflicting interpretations of a multitude of laws involved.

E. G. Schuessler, Columbus, a member of the attorney general's staff who is representing Mr. Spahr in his election contest, called Milford E. Buob, chief of the administrative and real estate section in the office of the department of air installations at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, to the witness stand several times.

Mr. Buob, a civil engineer, was asked to identify as genuine a number of documents in which Mr. Schuessler hoped to prove that Skyway Park is a military reservation and therefore its residents had lost their voting rights in this county.

On the other hand, George H. Smith, Xenia, lawyer for Mr. Crone, called R. J. O'Donnell, federal attorney for the southern Ohio district, in an attempt to prove that the federal government through his office, does not handle criminal cases in the area since state law violations are referred to the civil authorities in the county in which the area is located. It was on apparent effort to show civil rights of Skyway residents are not abridged. Mr. O'Donnell also introduced some documents as evidence, including a federal attorney general's ruling which ceded jurisdiction to county authorities.

Prosecutor Marcus Shoup, who assisted Mr. Smith since the prosecutor's ruling was the basis for the setting up by the election board of the Skyway precinct, offered a motion to dismiss the case, calling Mr. Spahr's evidence insufficient. The move was overruled by Judge McDowell.

The prosecutor summoned Miss Ida Boyd, a deputy clerk in the U. S. district court at Dayton, to the stand and she identified court records in condemnation proceedings. SOVIET RECEPTION. . . . Russia, Ambassador Alexander Panyushkin is all smiles as he greets U. S. Attorney General Tom Clark and Mrs. Clark their arrival at the Soviet embassy for the reception commemorating the 31st anniversary of the Russian revolution. It was a brilliant affair, featured by the most unimpeachable show: Important U. S. figures who attended included Henry Wallace, the nation's leading disciple of a soft policy towards Russia, and Dr. Edward U. Condon, director of the American bureau of standards.

Jackets Take Villa Madonna, Drop to Flyers

After vanquishing Rose Poly at Terre Haute, Indiana Wednesday, Dec. 8, Cedarville returned home and met Villa Madonna College of Kentucky on their own floor. The Jackets were hard pressed to hold the lead but with the sharpshooting of John Townsley and Bill Dunlap were able to leave the floor at the half with a 19 to 15 advantage.

The boys from Kentucky came back in the second half but Don Barger, Cedarville's captain, connected for three consecutive buckets to build a lead that was never relinquished. Villa Madonna's center, Ed Wolf proved himself a decided threat as he hit the net for 10 points to be top scorer for the night. Barger led Cedarville's squad with 12 points.

Monday, Dec. 13 was the date of one of the best ball games to be had in the area in many recent years. Dayton University's Flyers were visitors and Cedarville College was the host. Cedarville was very impolite though because after allowing the Flyers to jump to a 13 to 2 lead, the Jackets proceeded to cut down their overconfident foes. Using two "machine" guns in the person of Bucky Shumate and Gene Blosser who connected from all angles, Cedarville crept up and at the buzzer for the half, Dayton's margin was trimmed to 36-29. Coming back for the final 20 minutes the Jackets proved their ability and with Stanley, Huston, and Blatterie outbounding the taller Dayton boys at both ends of the court and they had, Coach Tom Blackburn of the Flyers screaming for help. The final score read Dayton 70 Cedarville 64 and Dayton was happy to have won out on the long end.

There was a marked difference in play from the Dayton game and Coach Beattie of the Jackets says it will continue.

The Jackets next home game is Friday night, Dec. 17 at 8:15 in the Cedarville gym.

They will meet a very formidable opponent in Kentucky Wesleyan who last year held Louisville, National Champions, to a 62-58 decision. The Wesleyan Panthers have on their roster one Faunce Woods who is known as the "Phantom" in basketball circles. Woods is only five feet four but he held the highest point average for Kentucky colleges for 2 of the last 3 years and placed second the third year. Along with Woods, Wesleyan will have eight letter men competing in the finals in the K. I. A. C. tournament last year.

At Cedarville College

The annual Christmas recess at Cedarville College will begin at noon on December 23, and will end at 8:20 a. m. Monday morning, January 3. Absences from classes immediately before and immediately after the holidays will count as double absences.

The Christmas formal scheduled for 8:30 Wednesday night is the first Christmas formal dance in the history of Cedarville College. Music will be furnished by the Dayton Campus Flyers. The affair is scheduled for the auditorium, and is sponsored by Kappa Sigma Kappa, local fraternity. Admission is one dollar per person, or $1.50 per couple.

Chapel service on Wednesday featured an illustrated lecture on the Holy Land by Prof. Fredrick Huish.

Pupils of Prof. Margaret Huish, department of music, will present a recital Monday at the Cedarville United Presbyterian church at 8 p. m. The program is open to the public.

The most popular speaker of the current semester addressed the student body and faculty during the assembly Monday morning. Sid Garrison, announcer and disc jockey for Springfield radio station WJEL, related to the group his experiences as a disc jockey in Springfield, and a few of his previous experiences in Hollywood and New York. He emphasized that regardless of the size of the city or town, people are fundamentally the same.

Mr. Garrison was sponsored by Kappa Sigma Kappa.

Members of the Caravaners and their guests held their annual Christmas party in the recreation hall Tuesday evening. An evening of fun and refreshments was enjoyed by all present.

Appeals Court Uphold Jurist In Force Case

Affirming a common pleas court judgment, the second district court of appeals Saturday ruled that O'Neill Hall, 58-year-old women's dormitory at Wilberforce is state property.

With Presiding Judge William C. Wiseman of Dayton writing the opinion in which both Judges Roscoe G. Hornbecker of London and Fred G. Miller of Columbus concurred, the appeals tribunal declared the State College of Wilberforce could claim the dorm by adverse possession.

The appeal had been made last Oct. 14 by the AME church's Wilberforce university after Judge Frank L. Johnson, Xenia, had decided an eviction suit against the state in favor of the defendant.

The court heard four appeals when it sat here two months ago and in each instance has now upheld rulings by Judge Johnson.

In the decision, the appellate court said the two institutions have always been and are now separate entities, the Wilberforce university being supported, controlled and managed by the AME church and the College of Education and Industrial Arts by the state of Ohio.

It went on to recognize that Wilberforce university had gained title to the land on which O'Neill hall stands in 1886 but in 1891, when the dorm was built, funds for construction and equipment came from the state in the sums of $10,000 in 1891 and $16,000 in 1892.

Although Wilberforce U. did contribute to the building, this fact alone, the decision read, would not prevent the state of Ohio from acquiring title by prescription.

The appeals court said records do not show that any funds raised by Wilberforce U. for construction of O'Neill hall ever were used for that purpose.

The state, the decision continued, had maintained, controlled and housed students there free of charge.

Award $800 in Damage Suit

Deliberation for less than an hour resulted in a $800 jury verdict for the plaintiff in a damage suit for $2,062 in common pleas court Monday.

Receiving the case shortly before 4 p. m. the jury favored Robert E. Anders, Dayton, in his suit against George E. Sieber, Bellbrook. The case was filed Dec. 20, 1948.

The suit involved a contract calling for Anders, who resided in Dayton property owned by Sieber, to make certain improvements with the stipulation he could buy for $5,000 unless a better price could be obtained. Sieber disposed of the property for $5,500 and Anders sued for $2,062 worth of improvements.

Higher Salaries Slated for County Officers

Jan. 3 will mark the beginning of four-year terms for eight Greene county officials. Another begins a six-year term Feb. 9, one starts a four-year term next Sept. 5 and one embarks on a two-year term when the state legislature is seated early in January.

But most important, to the officials themselves, is the fact that higher salary scales, which the 1948 session assembly approved, go into effect with the beginning of each term.

The new legislation will give County Engineer Frederick R. Lemcke (R) the distinction of being the highest paid county official—at least until 1951. Presently receiving $3,250 a year, his pay after Jan. 3 will be $4,225. Mr. Lemcke was appointed last January when Robert Crane quit.

That eclipses the $4,075 now being paid Common Pleas Judge Frank L. Johnson, still with two years to go to his current six-year term. The common pleas post, however, will pay $5,075, after Feb. 9, 1951, when another six-year term is begun.

Besides the engineer, who already has been sworn in by Clerk of Courts L. N. Shepherd since he was also written in as the short term engineer from election day to Jan. 3, these officials will start new four-year terms Jan. 3; County Commissioner-elect Robert E. Crone (D), Osborn, and Arthur Bahns (R), New Jasper; Recorder Ernest D. Healy (R), Xenia; Sheriff George P. Henkel (D), Xenia; Clerk of Courts Shepherd (R), Xenia; Prosecutor George R. Smith (D), Jamestown; and Coroner Hugh C. Schick (R), Xenia.

Probate Judge William B. McCollister, Jr., (R), Xenia, takes office Feb. 9, 1951, the newly created six-year term at $4,075 a year as compared with the $3,725 he now draws.

County Treasurer Harold J. Elwert, (R) Xenia, is paid $2,750 annually now but since he does not begin a new term until the first Monday in September (because of tax settlement dates) he will not qualify for the higher wage scale until the last four months to amount to $3,025 in 1949 but $3,575 annually afterward.

Representative Lowell Fess (R), Yellow Springs, begins a new two-year term with the seating of the new legislature in Columbus. His pay comes from the state.

The new salary scale, which repealed a 15 per cent hike allowed by the legislature in 1944, was based on a 30 per cent increase over the original scale, that is, the one before the 1944 legislation.

Unaffected yet besides Judge Johnson, because they were not candidates at this year's election, are Auditor James J. Curlett (R), Xenia, and Commissioner Hugh Turnbull (R), Cedarville. Mr. Curlett is paid $2,750 a year as auditor and Mr. Turnbull gets $1,850. The terms of auditor and Commissioner expire in 1950, after which they will be hiked to $3,575 and $2,405, respectively.

Although Mr. Curlett receives another $550 a year from the state tax commission as its representative in Greene County inheritance tax determinations, this post is not necessarily part of the auditor's job.

Election of Mr. Crone has been contested by Ralph O. Spahr, Xenia township Republican incumbent who was beaten in the voting on the ground that the Skyway Park precinct in Bath township is illegally constituted because it is on a federal reservation.

Electric Brooder

against chills

Saves many a baby lamb
for early marketing

Elmer F. Allen raises registered Shropshire lambs on his farm north of Sidney. These woolly babies are too valuable to risk. In 1946 one of Allen's lamb sons was selected as the best ram of the Annual Ohio Shropshire Breeders Association show and sale. This champion lamb sold for $225.

Materials for the electric brooder shown in the picture cost Allen less than $5, repaid many times over in the number of lambs it has saved.

Sheepmen come from miles around to buy Elmer F. Allen's registered purebred Shropshire breeding stock. Allen gives the electric lamb brooder a lot of credit for the help it gives him in bringing these valuable lambs safely through the first week or two of their lives.

Immediately after the lamb is born, Allen wipes it as dry as he can with towels, and places it under the 150 watt electric heat lamp of the brooder. The heat from the brooder lamp keeps the baby lamb warm and finishes drying his woolly coat. Allen pointed out that many lambs catch cold before they have a chance to get dry, because barns are cold and drafty in early spring. Every early lamb needs the protection of an electric brooder.

For little pigs, too—an electric brooder is a money saver. At weaning time each little pig represents about 240 pounds of feed fed to the sow. By saving from one to two pigs per litter an electric brooder protects this investment.

For practical suggestions on electric brooders for pigs and lambs, consult your County Agent, your Vocational Agriculture teacher, or the Farm Representative of your electric service company.
